

Call for Papers
Thirty-sixth Annual Meeting of the Arkansas Philological Association
2009 Conference

October 8-10, 2009

The Basin Park Hotel
Eureka Springs, Arkansas

Southern Accents:
(Re)Configurations and (Re)Considerations

Southern literature has always been and continues to be a rich and growing area for ongoing discussion and critical analysis within the context of our society. This call for papers seeks contributions over a wide variety of interpretations of and critical approaches to Southern literature. As always, the APA welcomes scholarly papers on any topic pertaining to the literature of any nation or period, language, philosophy, popular culture, the teaching of writing, English education, as well as literary criticism from other places and periods. Creative writers are also encouraged to submit original works of poetry, drama, or fiction.

Maximum reading time: 20 minutes

For scholarly papers, please submit the title and a 100 word (maximum) abstract; for creative works, submit the entire work and a note of context, if useful. Also, please note if you would be interested in chairing a session.

Keynote Speaker

Dr. John Lowe

Professor of English and Comparative Literature at Louisiana State University and author of

Jump at the Sun: Zora Neale Hurston's Cosmic Comedy and Faulkner's Fraternal Fury: Sibling Rivalry, Racial Kinship, and Democracy

Featured Reading by

Kevin Brockmeier

Author of

The Brief History of the Dead

Deadline for Electronic Submissions: Midnight, Tuesday, September 15

Electronic submissions are preferred and may be sent to: cbane@uca.edu

Hard copy submissions should be postmarked no later than September 12.

Dr. Charles Bane
Department of English, Irby 317
University of Central Arkansas
201 Donaghey Avenue
Conway, AR 72035