

2009 Mandarin Chinese lessons in Little Rock

Calling all parents and grandparents! Give the children in your life the gift of a second language today! The University of Central Arkansas' Community Language School in partnership with St. James United Methodist Church is offering fun after-school classes in Mandarin Chinese. This might be the leg up your kids need to enter the global workforce of tomorrow. All the new brain research tells us that young children are language sponges—they pick up accents, vocabulary and grammar effortlessly. Our instructor, Mrs. Hong Prowse, has many years of experience as a teacher in her native China. She has a natural gift for teaching and the children in our program love her.

Please join us for classes at the Life-After-School Program located in the St. James' Family Life Center at 328 Pleasant Valley Drive, Little Rock on Thursdays for 14 weeks of Mandarin Chinese classes from Sept. 3rd to Dec. 10, 2009.

NOTE: The Family Life Center is a new building across Pleasant Valley Drive from the church building itself (church address is: 321 Pleasant Valley Dr.) Friends and neighbors whose kids do not attend St. James are also able to register them for these classes. There are more afterschool language classes available for kids and evening classes for adults on our Conway campus—see our website for a map to St. James, class schedules, fall calendar & program policies: www.uca.edu/wlan & click on "Community Language School" or call 501-450-3168 or email: Sera Streiff-Vena, CLS Director at serav@uca.edu
